Announcing the First Number in THE CANADIAN LIBRARY OF PHILOSOPHY Series:

FOUNDATIONS OF DECISION-MAKING

Alex C. Michalos
Director, Social Indicators Research
Programme
University of Guelph
Guelph, Ontario

This book is an attempt to provide an interconnected explication of many of the central concepts of decision-making: Liking, wanting, preferring, needing; Choosing, deciding and objects of choice and decision; Resources, restrictions and possibilities; Cost, benefit, probability and grids of analysis; and Rationality. The author argues against current theories of rationality, in favour of what he calls 'consensual rationality' and concludes the work with a discussion of the ethics of decision-making.

This book should prove valuable both for those with a general interest in the theory of decision-making, and for specialists. Though the author has written two books on logic, this work is free of technical terminology.
